

Join us and help wildlife in your community stay wild!

WildWise Yukon's mission is to reduce negative human-wildlife encounters, and work towards creating a safe, healthy environment for people and wildlife in the Yukon.

WildWise Yukon, and its umbrella organization, 'The Centre for Human-Wildlife Conflict Solutions', is a community driven, non-profit society established in 2012.

Our purpose is to carry out research, educational outreach and activities with a view to reducing negative human-wildlife encounters. We recognize the need to address human-wildlife conflict in a comprehensive and collaborative manner by bringing together government, citizens and communities. One of our key objectives is to reduce the number of instances where animals are relocated or eradicated due to negative encounters with people.

Together, we can work towards creating a safe, healthy environment for people and wildlife in the Yukon.

Membership fees and donations support WildWise initiatives. Membership benefits include:

- A welcome package, including a copy of our most recent Annual Report
- The opportunity to join our Board of Directors
- Option to participate in studies and participatory research projects (e.g. bear-resistant locks)
- Notification for all workshops and other opportunities presented by WildWise
